

SAMPLE MONOLOGUE JOKES

Joke #1

On Sunday, Volkswagen announced plans to make an electronic microbus, exciting hippies and surfers worldwide.

Sadly, no plans are in place to make a magic school bus, disappointing children and teachers space wide.

Joke #2

Amazon couriers are now able to drop off packages inside homes via smart locks.

They envision a day when they may slip love letters under pillows via master keys.

Joke #3

Apple unveiled FaceID recognition, asserting it's 20 times more secure than a fingerprint.

The company then revealed GroinID, asserting it's 20 times more intimate than a face.

Joke #4

According to a new NFL rule, any player that lowers his helmet to initiate contact may be disqualified.

For additional safety, the NFL is now debating whether or not a player may initiate contact with the turf.

Joke #5

After the Equifax breach, Yahoo confessed three billion accounts were hacked.

After the press release, three billion users confessed to having Yahoo accounts.

Joke #6

According to NASA, tonight's "wolf moon" will be bigger than usual so it'll be a great sight.

However, according to the USDA, the wolves will also be bigger so please stay indoors.

Joke #7

A “Game of Thrones” ice hotel has opened in Finland. A one-night stay is advised due to icy conditions.

A “Game of Thrones” fire hotel has also opened, but zero nights are advised due to human flammability.

Joke #8

Trump tweeted that anyone that hurts our statues will be sent to prison for 10 years.

Then he vowed that anyone who hurts his feelings will be sent to time-out for 10 minutes.

Joke #9

After gripes about “gaming” addiction, the World Health Organization added “gaming disorder” to its list of diseases.

After gripes about the name “gaming disorder”, the WHO then added “naming disorder” to the list.

Joke #10

“Alligator Wrestler” Gabby Scampone hopes to keep all her fingers while working with alligators.

Alligators, skilled “human eaters”, hope to see more people pick that career path.